NEW YORK – March 31, 2019 – The world’s elite endurance athletes will take center stage at the 2019 Aviva NYC Citywide Run® on Sunday, April 15, with the result being a race that will test the limits of both the human body and the most cutting-edge technology. The Citywide Run is a unique test of speed, strength and endurance. It showcases the most advanced technologies developed by NYC Athletics and the sport’s most elite athletes. The marathon/5k is designed to be an exhilarating test of speed, strength and endurance, testing the limits of both the human body and cutting-edge technology. With less than two months to go, athletes will descend on Central Park for the world-class race, featuring the sights, sounds and support of the city. The Citywide Run offers runners the opportunity to compete on one of the fastest and most unique courses of the marathon, including the famous Central Park Road, and the aptly named Avenue of the Americas. Running through a neighborhood of the city that has never before been used for a running event, the course of the Citywide Run will challenge the endurance of the competitors with a variety of terrain and changes in elevation. The 2019 Citywide Run will be the 12th annual Citywide Run and the first race with the new course. New technology will be incorporated into the course to both test and challenge the competitors. “The Citywide Run is a true test of speed, strength and endurance, and runners will experience challenging course features and unparalleled course support. The 2019 Citywide Run promises to be a transformative event that will be remembered by athletes and spectators for a long time to come,” said Sean Estrella, Executive Director of NYC Athletics. NYC Athletics is pleased to announce that for the first time ever, runners will experience one of New York City’s most historic venues for a race. NYC Athletics and its partners will be working with Central Park Conservancy to celebrate the history

The new website contains a simple and straightforward scheduler that allows dentists and dental offices to schedule appointments, request repairs and plan for their day. The new online portal can be used by office owners and administrative staff to manage the business of their practice. The online scheduler was built with the help of customers and partners of Dentex Group, and they have responded favorably to the site’s simplicity and ease of use. Dentists and dental offices can now easily schedule regular maintenance and repairs for their equipment in one centralized location. “The online scheduler has allowed Dentex Group to simplify the management of a complex industry,” said Gary Schatz, Chief Information Officer. “We’ve worked extensively with our valued customers and partners to create a simple and intuitive platform, where they can easily manage maintenance on their equipment. The online scheduler has been especially helpful to small and large practices alike.” “The online scheduler is a customer-friendly resource that has the potential to make service scheduling a quick, easy and cost-effective experience for the entire practice,” said Larry Schill, Vice President of Sales and Marketing. “We are extremely excited about this opportunity.” Dentex Group, Inc. is a provider of digital imaging and information management solutions to dentists and dental offices. Sopranos: The Next Generation DVD SKU ID #452662 $19.98 The original video game to feature all the memorable and iconic characters from HBO’s Sopranos series, hit the shelves in 1997, and is still considered by many to be the best portrayal of a mob family in an action-adventure game. Sopranos: The Next Generation takes the story where the original video game left off. Players will battle through all-new locations and scenarios to find out who’s been betraying Tony. Whether the player hunts for Tony himself, or tries to stop the game’s enemies from killing Tony, they will find themselves surrounded by Sopranos favorites: Benny Blanco (the popular cousin of Tony Soprano, played by Michael Imperioli) David Chase (the show’s creator, writer, and executive producer) Christopher Molt
